Panel 1: Finn sets the scene and introduces the world

Finn is in school, in a light-hearted moment where they sets the scene and introduces the world. Inspired by the prompt: "A sleepy librarian discovers a magical bookmark that brings book characters to life. When she accidentally places it inside a cookbook a mischievous talking pancake pops out and insists on becoming the library new assistant. Chaos follows as the pancake tries to shelve books, answer phones, and give dramatic readings all while dripping syrup everywhere. End with the librarian realizing maybe the pancake is the most entertaining helper she ever had".

(The air feels light-hearted as the scene unfolds.)
